

BRITISH ADVANCE IN A NEW DRIVE

Launch Fresh Attack to the North of Thiepval.

BIG BATTLE IN THE EAST

Teutons Claim to Have Driven Back the Russians, Capturing More Than 2,800 Men—Greece Not Yet Actually Involved in Conflict.

London, Sept. 29.—Except for a fresh attack on the part of the British, which gave them the greater part of a German redoubt north of Thiepval and 600 prisoners, the troops of the entente in the region between the Somme and Ancre rivers in France apparently are taking a breathing spell and consolidating positions captured in the great offensive which began Monday and has already netted them Comblès, Thiepval and other strong German positions at various points along the twenty-mile front.

During the work of consolidation, however, the big guns of the British and French are hurling tons of steel against the new positions the Germans have taken up, doubtless preparatory to another fresh attack, with Bapaume and Peronne the ultimate objectives.

Heavy Fighting in East.

Meanwhile, a big battle is in progress on the eastern front in the region between Lutzk and Vladimir-Volynski, around Svinosky and Korynitsa, where the Russians are attempting to advance, but the Teutons are impeding them by heavy counter-attacks.

The German war office says these counter-attacks in the region of Korynitsa have resulted in the recapture of positions lost recently by the Teutons and that the allied forces have now passed on beyond them. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the Russians, says Berlin, and in addition forty-one officers and 2,800 men were taken prisoners and one cannon and seventeen machine guns were captured.

In Galicia the Germans west of Krasnosiele also pushed forward their lines, while in the Carpathians attacks by the Russians were repulsed in hand-to-hand fighting.

Locked in Transylvania.

Around Petroseny and Hermannstadt, in Transylvania, the Teutonic allies and the Roumanians are engaged in bitter fighting, but with no important result having been attained by either side. The situation in the Dobruja region is unchanged.

On the Macedonian front Paris reports the repulse of Bulgarian attacks on both sides of Florina. There have been bombardments by the British of positions of the allies of the central powers by land batteries in the vicinity of Doiran and by warships in the Aegean sea.

Aside from an infantry attack by the Austrians in the upper Cordevole valley, which Rome says was repulsed, only artillery duels have taken place in the Austro-Italian theater.

Greece's entry into the war on the side of the entente allies has not yet been announced. An official dispatch from Athens gives the text of the proclamation of a provisional government in Crete by former Premier Venizelos and Admiral Condouriotis, which declares that if the king should decide not to take the lead of the national forces "it is our duty to do the needful thing to save the country from the threatening ruin."

TANKS A FAILURE, GERMANS DECLARE

Berlin, Sept. 29.—According to imprisoned crews of the armored automobiles used by the British on the Somme front the famous "tanks," as the British soldiers call them—the new machines have proved a complete failure, the Overseas News agency says.

"The prisoners point out that the cars are only able to advance at the rate of a mile an hour," it continues, "and therefore make excellent targets for artillery fire. They instance a case of seven of these machines that started in the advance of Sept. 15, only two of which reached their objective, even these being then completely put out of action by shell fire."

"Their occupants declare them atrocious contrivances to travel in, because of the noise, smoke and heat, and the treacherous ground over which they have to move when in field service."

"In another case, the prisoners say, the infantry had been told that six of the machines had been sent to the attack, but only one appeared, and this shortly afterward also was wrecked."

URGES PROSPERITY BE SAFEGUARDED

Kansas City, Sept. 29.—"If ever a people should pause; if ever they should look abroad and profit by the experiences of others, should comprehend their national dangers, in the light of the terrible realities that are being enacted before their eyes in other nations, it is now and we are that people."

In these words Frank A. Vanderlip of New York, addressing the annual convention of the American Bankers' association warned his hearers they should not take too easily the present great wealth of this country that "seems dangerously likely to submerge us in our own prosperity."

"Rather," he said, "with an opportunity such as no country ever had to lay the sure foundation of a great future, we must not be so intent upon dividing the proceeds of present prosperity that we fail to safeguard its permanence."

"In other words, I believe the greatest need of the day—and a need so fundamental as to make other matters inconsequential in comparison—is the need of universal military, industrial and economic preparedness."

GREAT WALKOUT FAILS TO DEVELOP

New York, Sept. 29.—The widely exploited sympathetic "walk-out" of trades unionists in Greater New York in aid of the striking carmen has not materialized, according to the police.

The labor leaders assert, however, that upwards of 140,000 workers actually have quit their places, but refused to make public the names of any unions answering the call.

The police declare they are unable to find any evidence of a general strike.

A meeting of representatives of twenty-six unions of the United Building Trades, comprising a membership of more than 100,000, refused to take any action in the sympathetic strike movement, it was announced.

They simply voted, according to their spokesmen, to refer the question back to the unions themselves, and adjourned until next Wednesday.

Both Sides Express Satisfaction at Progress.

New London, Conn., Sept. 29.—The Mexican-American joint commission expects to conclude its conference not later than Oct. 15, it was learned. Both sides expressed satisfaction at the progress already made. The work here is virtually finished.

Except for a bare outline neither side cared to discuss the character of the conference. It was stated that border conditions were discussed and that some consideration was given to the banking question.

Death Delays Settlement.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The death in Madrid of Vice Admiral Concesy Pailan, umpire in the disputes between the United States and Panama as to land seized or inundated by the Panama canal, probably will cause delay in the settlement of the claims, it was said here. State department officials indicate that negotiations soon will be entered into with the Panama minister for a successor who does not necessarily have to be appointed by the king of Spain as in the previous cases.

CHANCELLOR IS SILENT ON PEACE

Von Bethmann-Hollweg Arraigns Foes in Reichstag Speech.

BITTERLY ASSAILS EASY POLICY

Address Contains No Peace Proffers Nor Intimation of a Resumption of Submarine Warfare—Would Hang One Class of Statesmen.

Berlin, Sept. 29.—The speech of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg in the reichstag contained no peace proffers, which, he declared, would be useless in view of the attitude of the entente allies. There was no intimation of the submarine warfare.

The chancellor scathingly arraigned England as Germany's relentless and unscrupulous foe, and declared that statesmen who refrained from using all possible suitable weapons against such an enemy, owing to sentiments of consideration or a desire to keep open a basis for a future understanding, deserved to be hanged.

BRITONS EQUIP SHIPS WITH 18-INCH GUNS

Washington, Sept. 29.—Battleships equipped with eighteen-inch guns, three inches larger than any now afloat and two inches greater than the largest guns projected for the new battleships and battle cruisers to be added to the American navy, are under construction in Great Britain, according to unofficial advices given credence by naval officials here.

The big weapons are designed primarily, officials believe, for use against land fortifications.

The sixteen-inch guns to be put on the four American battleships for which bids will be opened next month, they declare, have a range sufficient to make them effective as far as an enemy can be seen, even under the most favorable circumstances.

For this reason they do not believe employment of larger and more unwieldy types would be practical against the shifting targets of an open sea engagement, however advantageous they might be against land fortifications.

EMBASSY DISCLAIMS ALIEN LAW ATTACK

Washington, Sept. 29.—Responsibility for any statement that after the European war Japan would renew negotiations with the United States over emigration and alien land legislation was disclaimed by the Japanese embassy in a statement issued by the charge, Tokichi Tanaka.

It was explained that an official of the embassy who expressed views on this subject spoke personally and without any authorization.

Furthermore, Mr. Tanaka declared that Baron Sakatani, the former Japanese finance minister, who has suggested in speeches at New York that Japan would take up the alien land issue again as soon as the war was over, was in no way authorized to speak for the foreign office, and was discussing the question solely as an influential statesman representing a large body of Japanese public opinion.

Traveling Men Want a Nation-Wide System Adopted to Benefit 100,000 Salesmen

(St. Cloud Journal-Press)

Traveling men of the United States want a nation-wide system of voting by mail adopted, according to P. L. Bauman of Chicago, a well known salesman who was in the city today on business. Mr. Bauman said that on an average of 100,000 commercial travelers lose their vote annually out of about an estimated 200,000 traveling men in this country.

Bauman's idea is the creation of a new federal bureau, which would keep a tabulated list of traveling commercial men, theatrical people and others whose business requires them to go from one place to another, and furnish them all with credentials and sample signatures. The credentials should be good for one vote a year and should be acceptable at any United States postoffice, destined for the state in which the voter registers. The credentials, stated Bauman, should also be authority for the casting of a vote at any place in the United States once every four years, in time of a presidential election.

DISPATCH WANT ADS PAYOld Time Sermon Writers.

Why don't clergymen who are unequal to composing good sermons for themselves occasionally read one of the beautiful homilies provided for them by the church? Or why don't they frankly read some one else's sermon, giving credit to the author? One wonders whether the hack sermon writer exists nowadays—the man who in the eighteenth century and later "loaned" original sermons in manuscript for a trifling fee. It is on record that Coleridge when he was particularly hard up raised the wind in this way. How much would a sermon in Coleridge's handwriting fetch at Sotheby's today?—London Chronicle.

Hopeful Names.

Two bright looking colored boys about seven years of age laughingly accosted a lawyer on the street. The man stopped and asked the boys their names.

"Johnsing," was the reply. "We's twins."

"Well, what are your first names?" insisted the amused questioner.

"Mah name," answered one, "is Soles, and his name," pointing to the other, "is Saloratus. Maw done lose all her oder chilluns, and she give us names she find successful in raisin'."

Exceptional.

He—Would you say that Mrs. Giggable was an eloquent talker? She—Yes, indeed; and the best part of it is that she frequently knows what she is talking about.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

"Look Ahead"

Three months of youth are worth a year of manhood. Use your time well. Preparation now means a better salary—a higher position in the months and years to come.

Hundreds of men have become successful in business because they capitalized their leisure time. Trained workers are absolutely demanded by the complex system of manufacture, trade and transportation today.

The unskilled workman is discounted everywhere. He simply cannot do the work required by modern business. The trained person always gets the best salary. You have to work. Make your services as valuable as possible. Get a position worth while. What you know counts most. It is better than "pull" or "luck."

At the Best Today

A story of the plains, in the days when Indian attacks were a real menace, is "The Bugle Call," Triangle drama starring Willie Collier, Jr., and to be seen at the Best theatre tonight.

Young Collier, 14 year old son of the famous Broadway star, has the role of Little Billy, son of the commandant at Fort McPherson, a frontier army post, and loved by every one in the place. He has one ambition in life, and that is to become a good soldier; and one military achievement he already has learned —to play the army bugle. It is only the good soldier in him that makes him tolerate the idea that his father is to marry again, for he cannot conceive of any one good enough to take his dead mother's place.

Soon after the wedding his father is called to quell an uprising of the Sioux Indians, forty miles to the south, and his new mother is left in his charge. Then the fort itself is attacked by Indians. Billy, who has hidden his step-mother in a cave in the hillside, suddenly sees that the outnumbered garrison is about to surrender. Bethingking himself of his bugle and, hoping to mislead the Indians into believing his father and the regiment are returning, he blows the charge from a distant knoll, with consequences that are exciting and satisfactory.

WOMAN'S REALM

HONORED AT CONVENTION

Miss Lou P. Barrett, Principal of Whittier School, Given Ovation at Chicago Meeting

OF BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE

Society Sings the Hymn, "Loyalty to Christ". She Composed when Society was Organized

A fine tribute was paid Miss Lou P. Barrett, principal of the Whittier school of Brainerd, at Chicago, where she was in attendance at the national convention of the Baptist Young People's society, representing Brainerd Baptists.

She was called to the stage and an ovation given her. At a signal the enormous audience rose to their feet and sang the words of the hymn she had composed 25 years ago when the society was first organized.

Tears sprang to the eyes of Miss Barrett. Louder pealed the organ and soon every man, woman and child in that vast concourse was joining in paying "Loyalty to Christ," singing the glorious song.

This happened at the last convention, some time ago, and so modest was Miss Barrett that she didn't tell a soul and a Baptist was told the whole pleasing story when he was at Chicago.

Here are the words of the stirring hymn:

Our hearts have felt the rapture of the presence of our God,
We're pressing on to victory in the paths too long untrod,
The cross of Christ our symbol and salvation thro' His blood,
Our hosts are marching on.

Chorus
Loyalty to Christ assures us
Victory so grand and glorious;
All our foes shall fall before us,
Our God is marching on.

We've heard the call of Jesus as it echoes thro' the soul,
Louder than the call of trumpet or the solemn drum-beats roll,
The God who calls to duty, of heart-service asks the whole,
As He is marching on.

3.
We've hosts of sin to conquer in the name of Christ our King, We've souls to win for Jesus till with joy the heav'ns shall ring,
And Gospel words to carry till the distant isles shall sing—
That God is marching on.

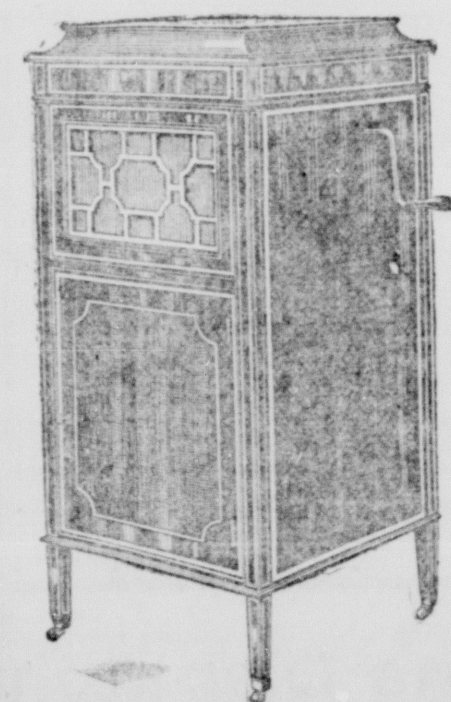

4.
In "Loyalty to Jesus" we will ever do
His will,
The God that leads our forces will direct and bless us still;
His ever-lasting promises he will in us fulfill,
As He is marching on.

Mullein Stalks For Roman Funerals.

The mullein has had many uses. The Romans dipped the stalk into tallow and used it as a funeral torch. In the middle ages it was used as a candle wick by many people. It is reputed to have medicinal virtues for both man and beast, smoking dry mullein leaves and drinking mullein tea being resorted to by those having colds. It won in England by reason of its reputation as a healer of cattle diseases the name of "bullock lungwort."—National Geographic Magazine.

St. Paul Woman Tells Why She Recommends Tanlac

PAYS TRIBUTE TO ITS WORK

"I've Gained Five Pounds, Since I Started Taking This Medicine Several Days Ago," Mrs. Hodges Gratefully Asserts

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 29—"There's nothing like telling the truth," Mrs. James Hodges, St. Paul woman of 463 Farrington, said on September 1. "I want to recommend Tanlac," she added.

"My system was just all run down," Mrs. Hodges continued. "It had been this way for more than a year. I had no appetite and gas formations in my stomach bothered me greatly. Gas would often form around my heart and cause severe pains. I hardly had enough energy to get up in the mornings and felt tired all the time. Of course I couldn't do my work in this condition.

"I've gained five pounds in weight since I started taking Tanlac several days ago. The gas formations in my stomach have ceased and my appetite is much better now. My strength has returned and the tired feeling that formerly bothered me has been banished. I can do my work without the least trouble now."

Tanlac, the Master Medicine, is especially beneficial for stomach, liver and kidney trouble, catarrhal complaints, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and the like and is a fine blood purifier and general system cleanser.

Tanlac is now being specially introduced and explained in Brainerd at Johnson's Pharmacy.—Advt.

His Own Counsel

By ALAN HINSDALE

I am a mechanic, and my specialty is safe locks. I was sent one day to open the safe of Aaron Farnsworth & Co., the only person who knew the combination being at the point of death and it being necessary that certain funds be got out. It is unwise to force a safe lock if there is any other way to open it, and I questioned those for whom I was to do the job with a view to discovering if some one else than the sick person knew the combination. Edgar Sharpley, the assistant of Robert Wendell, the financial man of the concern, admitted that he had known the combination, but had forgotten it.

Thinking I might help him to remember it, I suggested that he make a trial at recalling it by turning the knob. He placed himself before the safe and began to make the turns, but nothing came to him. I listened for a sound within the lock while he was doing so, but failed to hear any indication of anything dropping. He seemed to me to be nervous, and I noticed that his hand trembled.

Failing to elicit anything from him, I went to work and in the course of a couple of hours opened the safe. There was no one in the room where I was when I finished the job, and after opening the safe door and shutting it I went out into the main office to report what I had done. I returned with the junior partner, who was two or three yards behind me.

In a corner beside the door through which I entered was a stationary washstand, over which hung a mirror. As I passed into the safe room something prompted me to glance aside. In the mirror I saw a reflection of Sharpley. He was standing with his hand on the knob of a door opposite the mirror looking into the room. As I entered he closed the door softly, thus shutting himself out of the room.

It was evident to me that he did not know that I was aware of his presence. This I knew, not only by the expression of his face, but by the care he took to make no sound in closing the door behind him. However, I thought little of the matter. I had not been out of the room a minute, and Sharpley had been intrusted with the combination of the lock. This indicated that he was trustworthy; indeed, if he had wanted to take funds from the safe he could have done it long ago.

I turned the opened safe over to the junior partner, and, being told that when my further services were wanted I would be sent for, I gathered up my tools and went away.

That evening when I was sitting down to supper with my wife and kids two men came in and one of them, showing the badge of a deputy sheriff, arrested me. They not only searched me, but searched the house. Astonished, I asked them what was the charge against me, but they gave me no answer. When they took me away from my weeping wife and children I assured them that a mistake had been made, and they had nothing to fear for me. In going out I caught sight of my troubled face in a mirror in a rack standing in the hall.

The face of Sharpley as I saw it when he was about to shut the door of the safe room was recalled by my reflection. By one of those singular undefined connections in the train between incidents, I saw an explanation of my arrest. It did not come to me by degrees, but flashed upon me suddenly. It was this:

Money had been missed from the safe I had opened. Sharpley had taken advantage of my being at work on the safe to extract funds and make it appear that I had been the thief. If there was no evidence against me other than my having had access to the safe, there was none in my favor, for my word that I had seen Sharpley's reflection in a mirror when he was leaving the safe room would be worthless.

I was locked up in default of bail and during the night, instead of sleeping, thought upon a plan of springing upon him that I had seen his reflection in the mirror as he left the safe room. In the morning I asked permission to tell Aaron Farnsworth my story. I was taken to his office and before beginning my defense asked that the whole office force be admitted to hear it. This of course included Sharpley. When all were present I asked him if he was not in the safe room when I left it to announce that I had opened the safe. He replied in the negative. He stammered that he could not remember.

I asked the partners to adjourn to the safe room, and when there I placed Sharpley at the door as I had seen him, it being partly open, with his hand on the knob. Then I asked Mr. Farnsworth to enter the room from the main office as I had entered it and glance aside into the mirror as he came in. He did so and saw Sharpley's image, now pale as a ghost, for he knew that I had seen his reflection before he closed the door.

"That is all the defense I can make," I said. "When I returned from announcing that I had opened the safe I saw Mr. Sharpley reflected in the mirror as I have just placed him."

Sharpley was arrested, the missing funds found between the mattresses of his bed, and he confessed all on the same day. I was returned to my home and family.

I was told by lawyers that I had handled my case beautifully. I doubt if I could have saved myself in any other way.

CARE OF TEETH

Brushing the Teeth Crosswise is Wrong, Rotary Motion is Right Way to Clean Them

Do you know how to brush your teeth?

Many people brush their teeth crosswise. This is wrong.

Some people have been taught to brush their teeth by passing bristles lengthwise of the teeth. This is better, but still is not the best way.

The most effective way to use the toothbrush is to place the bristles of the brush firmly against the teeth, as though trying to force the bristles between the teeth, and using a slight rotary or scrubbing motion.

This movement will be found to cleanse the teeth better than any other method short of a visit to the dentist's chair. Care should be taken to go over all the surfaces of the teeth in this manner.

When the brushing is finished the user should take into his mouth lukewarm water and with the use of the lips, cheek and tongue, force the water between and around the teeth, repeating this cleansing process several times.

This is as important a part of the correct way to clean the teeth as is the use of the toothbrush and tooth paste.

One of the most important things to consider is the right kind of a toothbrush. Aside from style and shape the brush should have bristles stiff enough to suit the condition of the mouth of each user.

WOMAN'S REALM

HONORED AT CONVENTION

Miss Lou P. Barrett, Principal of Whittier School, Given Ovation at Chicago Meeting

OF BAPTIST YOUNG PEOPLE

Society Sings the Hymn, "Loyalty to Christ", She Composed when Society was Organized

A fine tribute was paid Miss Lou P. Barrett, principal of the Whittier school of Brainerd, at Chicago, where she was in attendance at the national convention of the Baptist Young People's society, representing Brainerd Baptists.

She was called to the stage and an oration given her. At a signal the enormous audience rose to their feet and sang the words of the hymn she had composed 25 years ago when the society was first organized.

Tears sprang to the eyes of Miss Barrett. Louder pealed the organ and soon every man, woman and child in that vast concourse was joining in paying "Loyalty to Christ," singing the glorious song.

This happened at the last convention, some time ago, and so modest was Miss Barrett that she didn't tell a soul and a Baptist was told the whole pleasing story when he was at Chicago.

Here are the words of the stirring hymn:

Our hearts have felt the rapture of the presence of our God,
We're pressing on to victory in the paths too long untrod,
The cross of Christ our symbol and salvation thro' His blood,
Our hosts are marching on.

Chorus

Loyalty to Christ assures us
Victory so grand and glorious;
All our foes shall fall before us,
Our God is marching on.

We've heard the call of Jesus as it echoes thro' the soul,
Louder than the call of trumpet or the solemn drum-beats roll,
The God who calls to duty, of heart-service asks the whole,
As He is marching on.

3.

We've souls to win for Jesus till with joy the heav'ns shall ring,
And Gospel words to carry till the distant isles shall sing—

CROATIAN ORCHESTRA

Will be the First Number of Baraca Class Lyceum Course at the Gardner Auditorium

The first number of the Baraca class Lyceum course will be given October 4 at Gardner auditorium and will be the Croatian Tamburica orchestra. Of this orchestra the Times-Tribune of Waterloo, Iowa, says:

The concert last night was rendered by the Croatian Tamburica orchestra. This orchestra is made up entirely of men, playing upon different sized tamburicas, the native instrument of the province of Croatia. The audience enjoyed one of the musical treats of the season. In the afternoon they played Balkan melodies, selections from the opera, Lucia de Lammermoor, and American songs. As encores they played a little "Ragtime."

These men were discovered by Americans when they were playing at the Paris exposition and since that time they have played over all the United States. The company appearing in Waterloo is the only company on this side of the Atlantic, although many companies are now touring Germany and England.

The Name "Noah."

Not many persons are sufficiently acquainted with the Bible to know that Noah was the name of a woman as well as of the patriarch. At an inquest in England a female witness gave her Christian name as "Noah." The coroner remarked that he had never before known a woman to bear the name, whereupon the witness said: "It is a Bible name, sir. You'll find it in the last chapter of the book of Numbers."

Reference was duly made, and in the seventh verse of the thirty-sixth chapter the coroner found mention made of "Mahlah, Tirshah and Hoglah and Milcah and Noah, the daughters of Zelophead."

All Citizens Should Observe Fire Prevention Day, October 9

Fighting Minnesota's fire toll with prevention, the year around, the state fire marshal's department is making special efforts that all progressive towns in the state will observe the fifth annual "Fire Prevention Day" on Monday, October 9, as fixed by proclamation of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist.

Toward further reducing the annual fire loss of life and property and aiding in the Minnesota-made-fire-proof movement, State Fire Marshal Robert W. Hargadine suggests that in live communities—

Mayors will issue like proclamations urging local celebrations of the day—fireless celebrations;

Civic and commercial organizations will arrange meetings to plan to make the home town fireproof;

Schools will have appropriate exercises—talks on the danger of the small boy and match, and like combinations;

Men and women will look about their homes and clear away attic, basement, back-yard or other accumulations that make the fire danger.

"If Minnesota people will only stop to think that the nation's fire toll is 5,000 lives a year and $500 loss a minute; although two-thirds of the fires are preventable, fire prevention day this year will be a big success in every town," said Fire Marshal Hargadine. "Every person in the state will join in the movement because sickness and fire are nearest to them—liable to 'strike home' any day."

Records in the fire marshal's office show gradual reduction in the fire losses in Minnesota, and part of the credit for the showing is given to the general observance of fire prevention day each year in all cities.

"MADE MY BLOOD RUN COLD."

A Common Expression That States a Physical Impossibility.

"My blood runs cold at the very thought" is not a novel expression. You often either hear some one else say it or aver it yourself.

Your blood cannot "run cold" as long as you are alive and well. If the blood really becomes colder than "blood heat" something serious happens to your health.

When you feel cold it is a sensation, not necessarily the temperature of the tissues. Often with the blood feverish or away above its normal warmth you feel chilly. So much of the superheated blood is then at the surface of the skin that an extra normal amount of heat leaves too quickly.

On the other hand, men and women who drink beer, gin, whisky and similar alcoholic beverages "feel the glow of warmth" and believe they are hot when as a matter of course their blood is a trifle below blood heat temperature—at times manifestly a dangerous thing.

True enough, the blood has much to do with how you feel. This, however, is not because it "blows hot or blows cold," but because that part of it in the skin where the sensations of heat and cold are located reflects the outside surroundings according to the previous experience and habits of each individual's skin.

If a stoker and an employee of a refrigeration plant are put in a cold draft or before an open grate fire each will feel chilly or hot according to his previous experience and habits. The stoker will "catch a cold" in the "draft," which will have no effect whatsoever upon the man used to cold storage temperature.—San Francisco Chronicle.

ALL MEXICO NATES GRINGOS

Taft-Roosevelt Reconciliation Topic of Animated Talk Among Politicians
Senator Pomerene of Ohio in a Delicate
Political Situation—Republican Victory Will Make Mann Speaker.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Oct. 2.—[Special.]—One phase of the Mexican situation which is causing a great deal of uneasiness among those who pay any attention to what is going on in that country is the possibility of the forces against Carranza becoming much stronger at a time when the United States may be in alliance with the first chief, Felix Diaz, with the aid of a number of former bandit generals, some of whom have been with Carranza, seems to be the growing power in Mexico, and if he shows the same force which was characteristic of old Porfirio Diaz he may become the big power in Mexico. The name Diaz begins to sound good to many Mexicans after such a long period of brigandage, rapine and lawlessness. Felix Diaz is a nephew of the late dictator.

The Hated Gringos.

From the time that Carranza became a power he has had apparently to shun the friendly efforts of our government to help him. He protested against the occupation of Vera Cruz, ordered us to get out, and in the pursuit of Villa last summer he made such conditions as greatly to hamper the operations of the American forces. But, in spite of this, the idea seemed to prevail that he represented the best in Mexico, and the efforts of our government has been to co-operate with him and bring peace to Mexico with Carranza in power.

It would be quite unpleasant just now to have Diaz loom up as the real man in Mexico and make use of the prejudice existing against the "gringos" in order to oust Carranza. One reason why it is believed that Carranza has spurned the friendly offers of the United States heretofore is because he wanted to take advantage of the prejudice there is in Mexico against the United States, which is about the only unanimous sentiment that seems to exist in Mexico.

Food Regulations in Germany.

The wife of a United States consul in one of the large cities of Germany, writing to her people in this country, says that, while there is no actual privation in the matter of food, the restriction of the supply is severe. No one can obtain any food supplies without a card from an official, and these cards limit the amount in pounds and ounces very strictly. Meat can be had only on certain days, butter for breakfast only, bread in small quantities and other supplies in like manner.

When a person of distinction or of the higher class gives an entertainment, such as we call an afternoon reception or tea, all the friends give that person their bread tickets for the day, so that there may be a sufficient supply of bread for sandwiches as a part of the refreshments.

The Republican Campaign.

A rumor floats over from New York to Washington that there are a number of old timers in control of the Republican campaign in New York with whom Chairman Wilcox is working in complete accord, and it is asserted that Frank H. Hitchcock is not one of these. The report is to the effect that, while the name of the former chairman is on the executive committee, he is not active in the campaign.

Strange Bedfellows.

"Politics makes strange bedfellows," was a remark made long ago, but nearly every political campaign sees the adage in effect. Just now the reconciliation for political purposes between the only two living ex-presidents shows that it is as true now as when first uttered. After what Taft and Roosevelt have said about each other, particularly after what they said about each other four years ago, the reconciliation is a sight for the patriot to gloat over. There should be a Nobel peace prize for the man who brought it about.

What's a Head or Two?

The suggestion that Alcee Pomerene retire from the senate race in Ohio in order to give Secretary Baker a chance to run because Baker might help President Wilson recalls to mind that in the grand scheme of party success a head or two of those in minor places is of consequence. But Pomerene is not a man to go to the sacrifice. He has a stake in the Ohio campaign that is quite important to him.

Pleasing to Jim Mann.

Nearly everybody who has said anything on the subject has conceded that Jim Mann will be the speaker in case the Republicans carry the house this fall. Uncle Joe Cannon, who held the place eight years, is among the latest adherents of Mann. The present minority leader may have an easy time to get the speakership, but he will have real trouble in restoring that position to the powerful place in the government it had before the raid on Cannon and the subsequent raid of the Democrats when they took control of the house. Mann would be pleased with the speakership and its old power.

JEWISH SOLDIERS CELEBRATE

Hundreds in Border Service Allowed to Observe New Year's.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 29.—Hundreds of Jewish soldiers in the national guard regiments and in the United States army observed the Jewish New Year. They were given leaves of absence from camps and worshiped in the downtown temples. Captain I. Schayer of the Second South Carolina regiment conducted service for the Jewish soldiers at Columbus, N. M.

Honeyuskle Once a Medicine.

Honeyuskle, so far from being poisonous, was at one time prized as a conserve and considered good for numerous ailments, including the falling sickness and dysentery. It was also much valued for external application, a wash made of its leaves or flowers in distilled water being regarded as a sovereign specific for freckles and sunburn and also as an excellent tooth cleanser. In the Highlands the berries of the dwarf honeyuskle were believed to stimulate the appetite.—London Telegraph.

NAVY FOOD PRICES
BREAK ALL RECORDS

New York, Sept. 29.—Bids for food supplies for the United States navy, just received here, are much higher than those of last year.

Some of the items called for, such as beans and corn, are so scarce that many firms which usually bid for these contracts did not compete.

Only two firms bid on the string-bean contracts and they offered to fill only part of the order, 500,000 pounds. One firm offered to supply 270,000 pounds for $22,120.

The lowest bid for 1,140,000 pounds of canned corn was $85,174, while 2,295,000 pounds of canned tomatoes were offered for $112,945.

One of the largest items on the list was 640,000 pounds of canned peaches, which were offered for $51,319.

ANNOUNCES TROOPS' RETURN

Await Arrival of Rolling Stock Bringing New Regiments.

San Antonio, Tex., Sept. 29.—Announcement of all national guard regiments and organizations to be relieved from border duty by new state troops under Tuesday's order by the war department was made by General Funston. The total is approximately 10,000 men.

Movements will not begin, it was announced, until the incoming troops have arrived.

The rolling stock used in bringing them to the border will be utilized for the return trips of the respective states.

The only Northern troops to return is a Wisconsin battery of artillery and the First Montana infantry.

94. WILL TAKE FIFTH BRIDE

Aged Veteran of Three Wars Again to Wed.

Colorado Springs, Colo., Sept. 29.—Married for the first time in London the day Victoria was crowned queen, Captain Charles A. Gordon, now a resident of this city, will celebrate his fifth wedding here. He is ninety-four years old and his bride-to-be, Mrs. Margaret Dixon, is seventy-eight. Gordon's only son is the same age as his prospective stepmother.

Gordon served in the Punjab war in India in 1847 and fought in the war of the Crimea in 1854. Three years later he went to India during a Sepoy uprising and was made a captain. He came to America in 1859 and fought throughout the Civil war.

SIR CHARLES CAYZER DIES

Aged Shipowner the Father-in-Law of Two British Admirals.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Charles Cayzer died in Aberystwyth, Scotland.

Sir Charles, who was seventy-three years old, was head of the shipping firm of Cayzer, Irvine & Co., limited, owners of the Clan Line of steamships. For many years he sat in parliament.

His daughter, Florence Cavendish, was married to Admiral Sir John Jellicoe, commander-in-chief of the British home fleets, in 1902, and another daughter is the wife of Rear Admiral Charles Edward Madden.

MANSFIELD AS AN ACTOR.

His Genius Enabled Him to Turn Bad Parts into Good Ones.

We were to open a new theater in Panton street, which was not ready, so we were transferred to the Royalty. Mansfield was a young man then, about twenty-four, I should say. He was practically unknown. He soon began to shine at rehearsal. His part was that of an old beau. J. G. Taylor was to play a certain waiter. The play was an adaptation from the French. Farnie was the adapter, with no pride of authorship, so he allowed Mansfield a good deal of liberty in the way of interpolation and business. Day by day the part of the old beau was built up, especially in Taylor's scenes, until Mansfield's part assumed the proportions of a leading character and Taylor's part, which was the principal comedy part of the play, faded away into the background. We all began to take notice of Mansfield and to perceive that his character was going to be the part of the play.

One day Taylor rebelled. He told Farnie and Alexander Henderson, the manager of the theater, that he was the leading comedian of the company and that Mansfield's character had now become the most important personage in the comedy. He protested violently. Farnie was in a dilemma. Mansfield's business and additions were so clever and so valuable that he deserved the prominence accorded to him. Taylor was an important actor and could not be dispensed with.

Mansfield came forward. "Would Mr. Taylor like my part?" he said.

Taylor felt that, as the principal comedian, the best part belonged properly to him. He ought to have Mansfield's part.

Mansfield handed it to him. "By all means," said he. "Here it is," and he handed over the manuscript covered with interpolations, corrections and business.

Made a Costly Mistake.

A big commercial house in the middle west raised the salary of one of its officers to $40,000 a year.

The officer was greatly pleased. "Now my ambition is satisfied," he said.

Within two years the concern had found a way to dispense with this officer's services. It was done cleverly and smoothly. The man never suspected the real reason why he was released.

The head of the concern had overheard his remark. "We want no men in this business whose ambition is satisfied," he said. "When a man is satisfied, when he ceases to plan and fight for the future, we begin to lose money on him."—Woman's Home Companion.

All Citizens Should Observe Fire Prevention Day, October 9

Fighting Minnesota's fire toll with prevention, the year around, the state fire marshal's department is making special efforts that all progressive towns in the state will observe the fifth annual "Fire Prevention Day" on Monday, October 9, as fixed by proclamation of Governor J. A. A. Burnquist.

Toward further reducing the annual fire loss of life and property and aiding in the Minnesota-made-fire-proof movement, State Fire Marshal Robert W. Hargadine suggests that in live communities—

Mayors will issue like proclamations urging local celebrations of the day—fireless celebrations;

Civic and commercial organizations will arrange meetings to plan to make the home town fireproof;

Schools will have appropriate exercises—talks on the danger of the small boy and match, and like combinations;

Men and women will look about their homes and clear away attic, basement, back-yard or other accumulations that make the fire danger.

"If Minnesota people will only stop to think that the nation's fire toll is 5,000 lives a year and $500 loss a minute; although two-thirds of the fires are preventable, fire prevention day this year will be a big success in every town," said Fire Marshal Hargadine. "Every person in the state will join in the movement because sickness and fire are nearest to them—liable to 'strike home' any day."

Records in the fire marshal's office show gradual reduction in the fire losses in Minnesota, and part of the credit for the showing is given to the general observance of fire prevention day each year in all cities.

"MADE MY BLOOD RUN COLD."
A Common Expression That States a Physical Impossibility.

"My blood runs cold at the very thought" is not a novel expression. You often either hear some one else say it or aver it yourself.

Your blood cannot "run cold" as long as you are alive and well. If the blood really becomes colder than "blood heat" something serious happens to your health.

When you feel cold it is a sensation, not necessarily the temperature of the tissues. Often with the blood feverish or away above its normal warmth you feel chilly. So much of the superheated blood is then at the surface of the skin that an extra normal amount of heat leaves too quickly.

On the other hand, men and women who drink beer, gin, whisky and similar alcoholic beverages "feel the glow of warmth" and believe they are hot when as a matter of course their blood is a trifle below blood heat temperature—at times manifestly a dangerous thing.

True enough, the blood has much to do with how you feel. NEW RECRUIT MADE CORPORAL

Dick Bergman, of Brainerd, Enlisted in the Third Minnesota Infantry, National Guard

REMARKABLE PROGRESS MADE

At Present He is Detailed in the Quartermaster's Department at Fort Snelling

Word was received in this city today that "Dick" Bergman who enlisted in the 3d Minnesota Infantry, National Guard at the recruiting office in this city on September 5th, will soon be promoted to the position of corporal. It will be remembered that Dick was the first recruit to enlist at Brainerd and that he took out his citizenship papers in order to be eligible to join the colors.

His promotion is remarkable considering the short length of time he has been in the service. At present he is detailed to the quartermasters department at Fort Snelling and is assisting in equipping new recruits.

The second contingent of troops consisting of forty-two officers and men left Fort Snelling for the Mexican border today. Mr. Bergman is thoroughly enthusiastic with his military experience and is patiently waiting orders to move south.

CHURCH ENTIRELY FREE FROM DEBT

Annual Meeting of First Congregational Church Held, 110 Persons at the Supper

ELECTION OF OFFICERS HELD

Interesting Reports Read Indicated a Fine Condition of Life in the Parish

The annual meeting of the First Congregational church proved to be a great success; 110 persons sat down to the fine supper prepared by the ladies of the church, after which the business of the church was transacted. Under the able direction of its presiding officer, Rev. G. P. Sheridan, the business was discussed and transacted before the hour of 9:30.

Reports were most interesting indicating a fine condition of life in the parish. Especially was it interesting to learn that the church is now entirely out of debt.

The committee on the basement have been given further time to present specifications and estimates and to report within two months. The members and donors feel the great necessity for expanding its equipment and before spring will have a definite project to work for along this line.

Mr. Sheridan's great plea for the young people was convincing and will doubtless tell in the campaign for funds to renovate the basement.

It was also voted to dispense with the evening service during the month of December and try a vesper service to be held in the late afternoon of the Sabbath.

The following persons were elected to office:

Deacons—R. K. Whiteley, for three years, O. W. Merwin, for two years, H. A. Rahier, for one year.

B. H. S. FOOTBALL

(By E. J. G.)

The gridiron warriors of the B. H. S. are ready for the first real grim battle of the season which is to be staged here between Aitkin high school and the local high school next Saturday afternoon.

Except for a few minor injuries, the locals are in fine shape after last Saturday's game, which can be classed as a real football game.

Warner has been out of the game for the past week owing to a severe cold but it is the unanimous hope of all concerned that the old "warhorse" will be back in the game by next Saturday.

Reis and Palsner showed their same classy style as has heretofore been exhibited by these two warriors. The backfield showed some speed and was there on their toes when duty called.

Lawrence showed his mettle and what he was made of right from the first shriek of the referee's whistle.

John Olson, the only one suffering real injury was up and at 'em all the game and the line plunked down the field as if there were no obstacles at all to interfere with their progress. The team really showed more "pep" than most people imagined there was to be had in the B. H. S.

The big surprise this week is that the Little Falls machine met the untrained alumni last Saturday and the alumni handed them a lemon and by a good safe margin too.

The "Boys of 1916" have felt that the hardest games they were to have were two with Little Falls and one with St. Cloud but it now appears like a funeral march for the "Falls." It is also rumored that Tanner of Bemidji basketball fame has donated the Little Falls moleskins and stripes and expects to wreak revenge on the Brainerd boys.

It is hoped that Brainerd people will turn out Saturday and see the fastest bunch of gridiron acrobats in the northwest in action.

BRAINERD'S OLDEST STORIES TODAY

Whenever the Dispatch slips up and prints an obituary in its weekly and misses the daily, or makes a mistake on the date line or misspells a word, there is the due to pay. 2,500 readers call the attention of the paper to the calamity. But when Collier's, which calls itself the national weekly, when our friend Colliers hands Brainerd a magazine plumb full of errors such as the copy of Sept. 16 on the desk, it is time to let out a roar.

Here is what appears in that issue of Sept. 16, a series of duplications, making the magazine run like this: Page 7, page 8, page 7, page 8, page 9, page 10, page 9, page 10, page 11, page 12, page 14, page 12, page 13, page 14, page 13, page 14, the rest runs normal until Pages 27, 28, 27, 28, 29, 30, 29, 30, 31, 32, 31, 32, 33, 34, 33, 34, and the balance normal.

And the same thing, readers in Brainerd assert, happened to the issue of Sept. 9.

"Oh, Jack! If I should die, would you marry a woman just like me for your second?"

"Probably, but I wouldn't find it out till after the ceremony."—Puck.

POSTAL CLERK'S INSURANCE

All Employees Injured on Duty Will be Paid Two-Thirds of Their Wages

Postoffice employees are now working under a new accident insurance and compensation law, which went into effect the first of this month with the passage of a $500,000 appropriation by congress. It provides a comprehensive system of payments to all postoffice workers who are injured, whether temporarily or permanently, or killed in the course of their duty.

All employees injured on duty will be paid 66 2-3 per cent of their monthly pay, per month, beginning the third day after the accident, until they have recovered or for life in case of non-recovery.

If the worker recovers sufficiently to be able to work, but not at his former position, he will be given another position which if the salary is smaller, will be increased by 66 2-3 per cent of the loss of pay. Messengers and those just starting in the service will be paid the minimum compensation while injured and if permanently injured the compensation will increase in proportion to the natural increase of salary which would have been paid.

TALKS ON THRIFT

The Best Legacy You Can Leave Your Wife is a Well Invested Estate

In the daily papers comes the story of the downfall of the widow of a prominent Wall street man, who twice has been presented to British royalty, lived in Fifth avenue, was a social leader and a woman of the four hundred. In the brief six years of her widowhood she has wasted a fortune of over one hundred thousand dollars and now faces the charge of passing a worthless check. She says she has made a "bad mistake" but did the "best she knew how" with her money—put it in ill-advised business ventures, invested in doubtful securities and spent the rest in social aspirations.

Of lesser magnitude, but no less tragic, is the recent case of a German woman with three children, who in the short space of ten weeks has spent (not "invested") the fourteen hundred dollars received from her husband's death in an accident. During that time she has visited the savings bank on an average of every day, drawing from twenty-five to fifty dollars each time.

Another woman who received a life insurance payment of two thousand dollars, wasted her inheritance in two weeks at the races. Another, who received a thousand dollars bedecked herself with jewelry and had to go back to the factory in three months. A certain youth received two thousand dollars as his share of his uncle's estate, quit work and lived the high life for a short time, and then went broke, as they all do.

The only redeeming feature of these processes is the fact that the waste of money cures itself, for soon there is no more to waste. The above-mentioned individuals have found it out. It matters not whether the sum be large or small, it seems an endless amount, but a little extravagance every day soon brings the fund to a state of exhaustion.

Life insurance companies have found upon investigation that a large proportion of their policy settlements are frittered away in the course of a few years. The hard work and the sacrifices of the bread winner, in which the beneficiary usually has shared seem to count for naught when the settlement comes, and passes a considerable sum into irresponsible hands.

This is no indictment against womanhood, but as a sex they seem to have the knack of spending easy money fast. While a thrifty woman is the Lord's choicest creation, the thrifless one is His greatest bane. Bank men of experience will corroborate the conclusion that it is unwise to leave money to the wife in such a way as to tempt her to be improvident with it. The fortune first mentioned would have given the wife an income of at least five thousand a year for life, if properly invested, and the smaller amounts would have helped the beneficiaries over many a rainy day. The caution to the men in such matters is to so arrange affairs that the income and not the principal may be used.

The best legacy you can leave your wife is a well-invested estate. If you love her you can prove it best by not giving her absolute control of her legacy, but by saving her from all the pitfalls that are open to the unsophisticated and the unwary. Save her from herself, her friends and the slick promoter who dazzles her with alluring tales of large returns from her investments.

Many a man has spent a lifetime providing for those he must leave behind, and in his provision caused their own down-fall. It is no reflection upon the woman to make these statements, but they are cruel truths borne out by everyday experience. You do well to consider what might happen to those who survive you if they fall prey to the temptations that best those mentioned above. The best estate you can leave is the certainty that the future will not find those you love in want through their own folly, made possible by your own shortsightedness. Thrift not only prepares for the future, but safeguards the future, and easy money needs such protection.

NEW RECRUIT MADE CORPORAL

Dick Bergman, of Brainerd, Enlisted in the Third Minnesota Infantry, National Guard

REMARKABLE PROGRESS MADE

At Present He is Detailed in the Quartermaster's Department at Fort Snelling

Word was received in this city today that "Dick" Bergman who enlisted in the 3d Minnesota Infantry, National Guard at the recruiting office in this city on September 5th, will soon be promoted to the position of corporal. It will be remembered that Dick was the first recruit to enlist at Brainerd and that he took out his citizenship papers in order to be eligible to join the colors.

His promotion is remarkable considering the short length of time he has been in the service. At present he is detailed to the quartermaster's department at Fort Snelling and is assisting in equipping new recruits.

The second contingent of troops consisting of forty-two officers and men left Fort Snelling for the Mexican border today. Mr. Bergman is thoroughly enthusiastic and is patiently waiting orders to move south.

Cuyuna Men Arrested by Indian Agents for Carrying Liquor into Dry Indian Territory

Peter Carlson and Michael Johnson of Cuyuna, were arrested by Indian agents for carrying liquor into Brainerd. The wet goods were confiscated and are held as exhibits. The Cuyuna men had been at Little Falls and were on their way home when taken.

Brought before U. S. Commissioner Judge W. A. Fleming, they were bound over to the federal grand jury and put under bonds of $200 each, which were furnished by Charles Peterson and Oscar Carlson of Cuyuna.

"Beaver Board" handled by the Lakeside Lumber Co., and distributed by them from Brainerd over a wide area, is rapidly gaining in popularity. An example of the use of the material is shown at 719 Laurel street. These quarters formerly occupied by W. E. Lively were remodeled and "Beaver Board" was used on walls and ceiling, paneled and painted and the results attained were really surprising. The location is now occupied by James Graham, the harness maker. The advertising carried on by the Lakeside Lumber Co. follows closely the national campaign of the manufacturers as carried on in the "Saturday Evening Post."

CHURCH ENTIRELY FREE FROM DEBT

Annual Meeting of First Congregational Church Held, 110 Persons at the Supper

ELECTION OF OFFICERS HELD

Interesting Reports Read Indicated a Fine Condition of Life in the Parish

The annual meeting of the First Congregational church proved to be a great success; 110 persons sat down to the fine supper prepared by the ladies of the church, after which the business of the church was transacted. Under the able direction of its presiding officer, Rev. G. P. Sheridan, the business was discussed and transacted before the hour of 9:30.

Reports were most interesting indicating a fine condition of life in the parish. Especially was it interesting to learn that the church is now entirely out of debt.

The committee on the basement have been given further time to present specifications and estimates and to report within two months. The members and donors feel the great necessity for expanding its equipment and before spring will have a definite project to work for along this line.

Mr. Sheridan's great plea for the young people was convincing and will doubtless tell in the campaign for funds to renovate the basement.

It was also voted to dispense with the evening service during the month of December and try a vesper service to be held in the late afternoon of the Sabbath.

The following persons were elected to office:

Deacons—R. K. Whiteley, for three years, O. W. Mervin, for two years, H. A. Rahier, for one year.

Deaconesses—Mrs. A. E. Losey and Mrs. J. A. Wilson, three years; Mrs. J. C. Congdon and Mrs. W. E. Erickson, two years; Mrs. G. Thomas and Miss May Whiteley, one year.

BANDITS SLAIN, LEADER TAKEN

Garranza Forces Suffer Heavily in Terrific Fight.

100 VILLA FOLLOWERS KILLED

Mining Center Southwest of Chihuahua Is Scene of Battle—Captured Leader Is Originator of Ear Looping Idea—Villa Now Wearing Beard.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 29.—Villa is wearing a long black beard, lips decidedly from the bullet wound in his right leg and walks with difficulty, even when using his crutch, a foreign business man, who arrived at the border, declared. He claims to have seen Villa during the attack on Chihuahua City.

Chihuahua City, Sept. 29.—More than 100 Villa followers were killed, the bandit leader Baudelio Uribe was taken prisoner and heavy casualties suffered by Carranza forces in a terrific fight at Cusuhirachi, an important mining center about fifty miles southwest of Chihuahua City, according to a message received by General Trevino from General Matias Ramos, who was slightly wounded. General Ramos had gone to cut off Villa's march toward the American border.

It is said the garrison at Cusuhirachi co-operated with the force of Ramos. Baudelio Uribe, leader of the band and Villa's chief lieutenant, was the originator of the idea of cutting off the ears of captured government soldiers.

CUTS EARS FROM FIVE HE TRAPPED

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 29.—Details of the last stand of Colonel Carlos Zuazua who fought against Villa, in Santa Isabel, are given in copies of El Democrata, a Carranza organ. The account is as follows:

"Colonel Zuazua occupied his private car in Santa Isabel, guarded by twenty men, the only ones who had not deserted him to join the Villa band.

"Suddenly a band of twenty, led by Villa in person, opened fire on the car. Zuazua, in his night clothing, and completely surprised, jumped from his car and, after letting in his guard, locked the doors.

"For two hours Colonel Zuazua and his band made a desperate resistance but the Villa men rushed the car, killed every one inside and then burned the car."

When General Trevino, in Chihuahua, found communication at Santa Isabel broken he suspected something was wrong and ordered General Canavos to get information. He got as far as St. Andrews, near Santa Isabel, when he was surprised and routed by Villa.

Five survivors of the fight arrived in Chihuahua, according to the paper, with their ears cut off and suffering from exposures and hardships.

NO HOPE FOR POLISH RELIEF

President Wilson's Appeal for Agreement Fails.

Washington, Sept. 29.—With the reply of Czar Nicholas to President Wilson's personal appeal for a Polish relief agreement among the belligerents received, it was learned that hope for such an agreement practically had been abandoned.

The state department forwarded the czar's special message to Shadow Lawn. This is the last of the five rulers to be heard from the replies from King George, Emperor William, President Poincare and Emperor Franz Joseph having been received.

WEST VIRGINIANS GO FREE

Indictments of Twenty Charged With Primary Frauds Quashed.

Huntington, W. Va., Sept. 29.—An order quashing the indictments against General Edward O'Toole, a member of the staff of Governor H. D. Hatfield, and nineteen others, charged with conspiracy in connection with the state primary election last June in McDowell county, was entered in the United States district court here.

Oil Prices to Soar.

Lima, O., Sept. 29.—Oil men here predicted a general upward sweep in crude oil prices when the first advance of 10 cents a barrel was noted in all Eastern and Ohio valley products and 5 cents for heavy grade Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Southeastern Ohio. The advance is the first since the decline started last July.

Iowan Dies of Pellagra.

Iowa City, Ia., Sept. 29.—Clarence Patterson, a farmer of Riverside, Ia., died of pellagra at the University of Iowa hospital. His death was the second in the history of the hospital and one of the very few in Iowa.

HUGHES PITILESS ON MEXICAN DISGRACE

In His Mind and on His Tongue More Than Any Other Single Problem With Which Mr. Wilson Has Paltered.

CRAZY CHAPTER OF BLUNDERS

No One Can Hear Him Speak Without Seeing the Reality of His Indignation Over the Heartless Policy of the Democratic Administration Toward American Men, Women and Children, American Citizens, Soldiers and Sailors Along and Across the Rio Grande.

Soon after Mr. Hughes was nominated a friend said to him: "Governor, if the American people forget the Mexican disgrace they do not deserve to have you for President." Quick as a flash he replied: "The candidate who dodges the Mexican disgrace does not deserve to be President." He did not pass around his address of acceptance for compliment or criticism in advance of its delivery, but the amount of space he devoted to the Mexican disgrace—"that confused chapter of blunders"—surprised no one who had talked with him since his nomination. It has been in his mind and on his mind more than any other single problem with which Mr. Wilson has paltered. To talk with him is to see at once the reality of his indignation over the heartless manner in which American men, women and children, American citizens, soldiers and sailors have been abandoned by the Administration along and across the Rio Grande, the victims of Mexican armed forces, outfitted with American ammunition and American rifles, Mexicans whom Mr. Wilson has coddled one day as patriots only to chase the next as bandits.

It is apparently the belief of Mr. Wilson that the people of the United States are not interested in Mexico. His defenders have declared that it was on "old story and out of date." Mr. Hughes has a better opinion of his fellow countrymen. He has proved himself a better judge of their feelings. He has made "the Mexican disgrace" a foremost issue of his campaign. He has assailed the record of the Administration in that respect in almost every speech he has made. He has never failed to strike a responsive chord in the hearts of his audience, whether speaking in Carnegie Hall, New York, from the platform of his train at Grand Forks, North Dakota, to a vast audience at Portland, at the Exposition at San Diego or in the prairie states of the Middle West. He has refuted the slander, sometimes heard in the effete East, that the people of the great West do not care what happens to their fellow citizens in Mexico or to the flag beyond the border. No man born in the West has a firmer faith in the fundamental patriotism and "dominant Americanism" of the people of that section than Mr. Hughes. He holds them responsible in large measure for the encouragement and support he received while Governor of New York in his war upon political graft and political bossism. He thinks they had much to do with conscripting him as the champion of nationalism in the current campaign. He showed his confidence in their practical idealism when he made "the Mexican disgrace" an uppermost issue of his campaign. He has been vindicated by the response his arraignment of the Administration on this score has everywhere evoked. From Maine to California "the Mexican disgrace" is a sore subject with red-blooded Americans today. But nowhere between the oceans are the outrages inflicted in Mexico upon American honor, life and property more keenly resented than around the fire-sides of the great West. Mr. Hughes is no stranger to the West. His straightforward talk on Mexico proves it.

HUGHES OR WILSON? ROOSEVELT'S ANSWER

"Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in elocution with futility in action; against his record of words unbacked by deeds or betrayed by deeds, we see Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile elocution is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The next four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during these four years: the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible; and it must be given by the American people through the election of Charles Evans Hughes as President of the United States."—Roosevelt in Maine Speech.

LABOR VOTE NOT DELIVERABLE

This is the Outstanding Fact Which Political Philosophers Deduce From the Defeat in Maine of Representative McGillicuddy.

From among the numerous lessons or conclusions which the political philosophers can draw from the Maine election one lesson or conclusion stands out more sharply defined than any other. It jumps at you.

The labor vote, for the sake of which the Poltroon Congress tarred and feathered itself with its own hands only a dozen days ago, is not deliverable by the traders who pretended to sell it.

This salient fact of the election is illustrated conspicuously in the Second Congress district. There are few places within the confines of our republic where labor is relatively stronger than in the city of Lewiston, the home city of Representative McGillicuddy, and he has made a specialty of it in his own political practice. In the Second Maine, if anywhere, would there be indications of any return, in the shape of votes, for the surrender of Congress to the four Brotherhoods. After a campaign which might almost be called desperate in its effort to save McGillicuddy and one Democratic seat in the House from the Republican onset, Mr. McGillicuddy was defeated by an adverse plurality of nearly 400, whereas he had been elected to the Sixty-second Congress by a plurality of 1,350 and to the Sixty-third by 1,281.

NOT AN EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

Recent Hold-Up Legislation Does Not Shorten Workday a Minute.

As a matter of fact, it is not an eight-hour law at all. It does not curtail the trainmen's workday by a single minute. If an engineer has been receiving $5 for working ten hours a day, this law will raise his pay to $6.25; but it will not shorten his workday even the tenth part of a second. This is no more like the true eight-hour principle than chalk is like cheese.

The reason why people call this an eight-hour law is because it says that in the case of railroad trainmen they shall get their day's pay for the first eight hours' work, and all the rest is to be considered overtime.

Do not tell me that this strike could not have been called off or postponed if President Wilson had shown that he meant business. I do not for one minute believe that those four brotherhood leaders started the blaze going without knowing how to put it out. One of them admitted that he could put it out so far as his own brotherhood was concerned, but that his followers would think that he had gone back on them if he were to do so.—Statement of Congressman A. P. Gardner.

Irvin S. Cobb is to make campaign speeches for the Democratic party in the West. Irvin, you all recall of course, is a humorist, and is peculiarly equipped to do full justice to his subject.

ANSWER: EIGHT HOURS, NOT EIGHT YEARS.

(Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.)

BAR HARBOR, Me., Monday. To the Editor of the Herald:—Maine's answer to Wilson:—"Eight hours, but not eight years."—A Former Progressive.

HOME OF THE BRAVE.

"This is the land of the free and the home of the brave, and if it ceases to be the home of the brave it will soon cease to be the land of the free."—Charles E. Hughes in a Speech Delivered at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Here is reason enough why Mr. Wilson should be defeated. Why should Mr. Hughes be preferred? Gifford Pinchot, the Progressive, answers, giving facts to support his statement: "Hughes is a man of his word. . . . I cannot vote for Wilson because I cannot trust him. He does not do what he says. Hughes does. Therefore my choice is Hughes."

Shadow Lawn, as a residence for the next few weeks, will give its occupant an opportunity to get accustomed to the after-election gloom.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to say of President Wilson, "Ye-es, he does make mistakes, but I believe he's sincere."

Villa says he bears no grudge. Well, why should he? He has always treated him as a perfect gentleman.

TALK AT NANTUCKET.

Where Old Salt Sea Phrases Come as Natural as Eating.

There has always been a charm about Nantucket for outsiders because of the sleepy quaintness of the place and the islanders' odd sea phrases so generously interlarded in their conversations. These phrases are so much a part of their talk that their use is unconscious.

They never pull, they always "haul," they do not tie or "fasten" anything, they "splice" or "belay" it; they do not arrange to fix a thing, they "rig it" or "rig it up"; they do not throw anything away, but "heave it overboard," they "back and fill" they "buff," "tack," "come about" and "square away" on any and all occasions.

Before engaging in any venture they first "see if the coast is clear," then as they proceed they "keep the weather eye peeled" and always "look out for squalls." Then they "sound it out" until they "fathom" it. If they don't like the "lay of the land" they "give it a wide berth."

All this is according to "The Nantucket Scrap Basket," a book compiled and edited by William F. Macy and Roland B. Hussey.

The authors tell the story of a certain Quaker mother of Nantucket, who once denied that she ever used any of the nautical expressions so common there, and told her children to remind her if they ever caught her doing it. The very next morning she gave them some eggs to leave at the home of a relative on the way to school with the words: "Take these into Cousin Phoebe's and tell her I think this squares the yard with us, and thee must send, for it's almost school time."

For Testing Gold.

The acid used by jewelers for testing gold is extremely powerful and has to be very carefully handled. To prevent any considerable quantity of the acid being spilled a specially constructed bottle is employed. The stopper of this is made of glass and contains a long pointed glass rod which passes down the center of the bottle. When an article of jewelry is to be tested the stopper is simply removed, and the article is touched with the point of the glass rod, to which a very slight quantity of acid has adhered. Gold is not affected by the acid, but imitation metal turns green.

Young Men "Horse Shy."

The discovery is being made that many young men who have reached manhood in the last ten years do not know how to harness and attach the horse to the buggy, crank the hoist, step on the horse starter, engage the clutch and get across the country under one horsepower.—Minneapolis Journal.

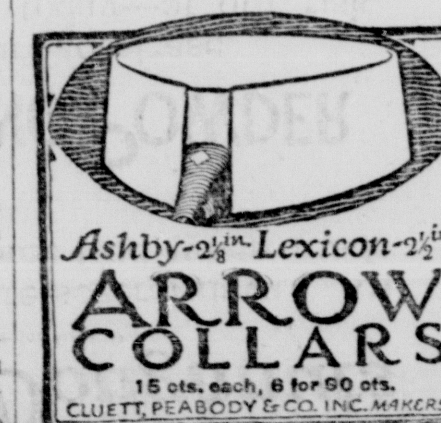

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of Limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of Limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

BANDITS SLAIN, LEADER TAKEN

Carranza Forces Suffer Heavily in Terrific Fight.

100 VILLA FOLLOWERS KILLED

Mining Center Southwest of Chihuahua Is Scene of Battle—Captured Leader Is Originator of Ear Looping Idea—Villa Now Wearing Beard.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 29.—Villa is wearing a long black beard, flaps decided by the bullet wound in his right leg and walks with difficulty, even when using his crutch, a foreign business man, who arrived at the border, declared. He claims to have seen Villa during the attack on Chihuahua City.

Chihuahua City, Sept. 29.—More than 100 Villa followers were killed, the bandit leader Baudello Uribe was taken prisoner and heavy casualties suffered by Carranza forces in a terrific fight at Cusiuhirachi, an important mining center about fifty miles southwest of Chihuahua City, according to a message received by General Trevino from General Matias Ramos, who was slightly wounded. General Ramos had gone to cut off Villa's march toward the American border.

It is said the garrison at Cusiuhirachi co-operated with the force of Ramos.

Baudello Uribe, leader of the band and Villa's chief lieutenant, was the originator of the idea of cutting off the ears of captured government soldiers.

CUTS EARS FROM FIVE HE TRAPPED

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 29.—Details of the last stand of Colonel Carlos Zuazua who fought against Villa, in Santa Isabel, are given in copies of El Democrata, a Carranza organ. The account is as follows:

"Colonel Zuazua occupied his private car in Santa Isabel, guarded by twenty men, the only ones who had not deserted him to join the Villa band.

"Suddenly a band of twenty, led by Villa in person, opened fire on the car. Zuazua, in his night clothing, and completely surprised, jumped from his car and, after letting in his guard, locked the doors.

"For two hours Colonel Zuazua and his band made a desperate resistance but the Villa men rushed the car, killed every one inside and then burned the car."

When General Trevino, in Chihuahua, found communication at Santa Isabel broken he suspected something was wrong and ordered General Carranza to get information. He got as far as St. Andrews, near Santa Isabel, when he was surprised and routed by Villa.

Five survivors of the fight arrived in Chihuahua, according to the paper, with their ears cut off and suffering from exposures and hardships.

NO HOPE FOR POLISH RELIEF

President Wilson's Appeal for Agreement Fails.

Washington, Sept. 29.—With the reply of Czar Nicholas to President Wilson's personal appeal for a Polish relief agreement among the belligerents received, it was learned that hope for such an agreement practically had been abandoned.

The state department forwarded the czar's special message to Shadow Lawn. This is the last of the five replies to be heard from—the replies from King George, Emperor William, President Poincare and Emperor Franz Joseph having been received.

HUGHES PITILESS ON MEXICAN DISGRACE

In His Mind and on His Tongue More Than Any Other Single Problem With Which Mr. Wilson Has Paltered.

CRAZY CHAPTER OF BLUNDERS

No One Can Hear Him Speak Without Seeing the Reality of His Indignation Over the Heartless Policy of the Democratic Administration Toward American Men, Women and Children, American Citizens, Soldiers and Sailors Along and Across the Rio Grande.

Soon after Mr. Hughes was nominated a friend said to him: "Governor, if the American people forget the Mexican disgrace they do not deserve to have you for President." Quick as a flash he replied: "The candidate who dodges the Mexican disgrace does not deserve to be President." He did not pass around his address of acceptance for compliment or criticism in advance of its delivery but the amount of space he devoted to the Mexican disgrace—"that confused chapter of blunders"—surprised no one who had talked with him since his nomination. It has been in his mind and on his mind more than any other single problem with which Mr. Wilson has paltered. To talk with him is to see at once the reality of his indignation over the heartless manner in which American men, women and children, American citizens, soldiers and sailors have been abandoned by the Administration along and across the Rio Grande, the victims of Mexican armed forces, outfitted with American ammunition and American rifles, Mexicans whom Mr. Wilson has coddled one day as patriots only to chase the next as bandits.

It is apparently the belief of Mr. Wilson that the people of the United States are not interested in Mexico. His defenders have declared that it was on "old story and out of date." Mr. Hughes has a better opinion of his fellow countrymen. He has proved himself a better judge of their feelings. He has made "the Mexican disgrace" a foremost issue of his campaign. He has assailed the record of the Administration in that respect in almost every speech he has made. He has never failed to strike a responsive chord in the hearts of his audience, whether speaking in Carnegie Hall, New York, from the platform of his train at Grand Forks, North Dakota, to a vast audience at Portland, at the Exposition at San Diego or in the prairie states of the Middle West. He has refuted the slander, sometimes heard in the effete East, that the people of the great West do not care what happens to their fellow citizens in Mexico or to the flag beyond the border. No man born in the West has a firmer faith in the fundamental patriotism and "dominant Americanism" of the people of that section than Mr. Hughes. He holds them responsible in large measure for the encouragement and support he received while Governor of New York in his war upon political graft and political bossism. He thinks they had much to do with conscripting him as the champion of nationalism in the current campaign. He showed his confidence in their practical idealism when he made "the Mexican disgrace" an uppermost issue of his campaign. He has been vindicated by the response his arraignment of the Administration on this score has everywhere evoked. From Maine to California "the Mexican disgrace" is a sore subject with red-blooded Americans today. But nowhere between the oceans are the outrages inflicted in Mexico upon American honor, life and property more keenly resented than around the firesides of the great West. Mr. Hughes is no stranger to the West. His straightforward talk on Mexico proves it.

HUGHES OR WILSON? ROOSEVELT'S ANSWER

"Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in elocution with futility in action; against his record of words unbacked by deeds or betrayed by deeds, we see Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile elocution is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The next four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during these four years; the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible; and it must be given by the American people through the election of Charles Evans Hughes as President of the United States." Roosevelt in Maine Speech.

LABOR VOTE NOT DELIVERABLE

This is the Outstanding Fact Which Political Philosophers Deduce From the Defeat in Maine of Representative McGillicuddy.

From among the numerous lessons or conclusions which the political philosophers can draw from the Maine election one lesson or conclusion stands out more sharply defined than any other. It jumps at you.

The labor vote, for the sake of which the Poltroon Congress tarred and feathered itself with its own hands only a dozen days ago, is not deliverable by the traders who pretended to sell it.

This salient fact of the election is illustrated conspicuously in the Second Congress district. There are few places within the confines of our Republic where labor is relatively stronger than in the city of Lewiston, the home city of Representative McGillicuddy, and he has made a specialty of it in his own political practice. In the Second Maine, if anywhere, would there be indications of any return, in the shape of votes, for the surrender of Congress to the four Brotherhoods. After a campaign which might almost be called desperate in its effort to save McGillicuddy and one Democratic seat in the House from the Republican onset, Mr. McGillicuddy was defeated by an adverse plurality of nearly 400, whereas he had been elected to the Sixty-second Congress by a plurality of 1,380 and to the Sixty-third by 1,281.

NOT AN EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

Recent Hold-Up Legislation Does Not Shorten Workday a Minute.

As a matter of fact, it is not an eight-hour law at all. It does not curtail the trainmen's workday by a single minute. If an engineer has been receiving $5 for working ten hours a day, this law will raise his pay to $6.25; but it will not shorten his workday even the tenth part of a second. This is no more like the true eight-hour principle than chalk is like cheese.

The reason why people call this an eight-hour law is because it says that in the case of railroad trainmen they shall get their day's pay for the first eight hours' work, and all the rest is to be considered overtime.

Do not tell me that this strike could not have been called off or postponed if President Wilson had shown that he meant business. I do not for one minute believe that those four brotherhood leaders started the blaze going without knowing how to put it out. One of them admitted that he could put it out so far as his own brotherhood was concerned, but that his followers would think that he had gone back on them if he were to do so.—Statement of Congressman A. P. Gardner.

Irvine S. Cobb is to make campaign speeches for the Democratic party in the West. Irvine, you all recall of course, is a humorist, and is peculiarly equipped to do full justice to his subject.

ANSWER: EIGHT HOURS, NOT EIGHT YEARS.

(Special Dispatch to the N. Y. Herald.)

BAR HARBOR, Me., Monday. To the Editor of the Herald:—Maine's answer to Wilson:—"Eight hours," but not eight years."—A Former Progressive.

If President Wilson were really earnest in telling the suffrage women "I come to fight for you," he would have put a suffrage measure through Congress by the same stop-watch method that he used to force the railway wage increase bill through.

HOME OF THE BRAVE.

"This is the land of the free and the home of the brave, and if it ceases to be the home of the brave it will soon cease to be the land of the free."—Charles E. Hughes in a Speech Delivered at Plattsburg, N. Y.

Here is reason enough why Mr. Wilson should be defeated. Why should Mr. Hughes be preferred? Gifford Pinchot, the Progressive, answers, giving facts to support his statement: "Hughes is a man of his word. . . . I cannot vote for Wilson because I cannot trust him. He does not do what he says. Hughes does. Therefore my choice is Hughes."

Shadow Lawn, as a residence for the next few weeks, will give its occupant an opportunity to get accustomed to the after-election gloom.

What has become of the old-fashioned man who used to say of President Wilson, "Yes; he does make mistakes, but I believe he's sincere."

Villa says he bears us no grudge. Well, why should he? Haven't we always treated him as a perfect gentleman?

TALK AT NANTUCKET.

Where Old Salt Sea Phrases Come as Natural as Eating.

There has always been a charm about Nantucket for outsiders because of the sleepy quaintness of the place and the islanders' odd sea phrases so generously interlarded in their conversations. These phrases are so much a part of their talk that their use is unconscious.

They never pull, they always "haul"; they do not tie or fasten anything, they "splice" or "belay" it; they do not arrange to fix a thing, they "rig it" or "rig it up"; they do not throw anything away, but "heave it overboard"; they "back and fill"; they "hoist," "tack," "come about" and "square away" on any and all occasions.

Before engaging in any venture they first "see if the coast is clear," then as they proceed they "keep the weather eye peeled" and always "look out for squalls." Then they "sound it out" until they "fathom" it. If they don't like the "lay of the land" they "give it a wide berth."

All this is according to "The Nantucket Scrap Basket," a book compiled and edited by William P. Mary and Roland B. Hussey.

The authors tell the story of a certain Quaker mother of Nantucket, who once denied that she ever used any of theautical expressions so common there, and told her children to remind her if they ever caught her doing it. The very next morning she gave them some eggs to leave at the home of a relative on the way to school with the words: "Take these into Cousin Phoebe's and tell her I think this squares the yard with us, and thee must send, for it's almost school time."

For Testing Gold.

The acid used by jewelers for testing gold is extremely powerful and has to be very carefully handled. To prevent any considerable quantity of the acid being spilled a specially constructed bottle is employed. The stopper of this is made of glass and contains a long pointed glass rod which passes down the center of the bottle. When an article of jewelry is to be tested the stopper is simply removed, and the article is touched with the point of the glass rod, to which a very slight quantity of acid has adhered. Gold is not affected by the acid, but imitation metal turns green.

Young Men "Horse Shy."

The discovery is being made that many young men who have reached manhood in the last ten years do not know how to harness and attach the horse to the buggy, crank the beast, step on the horse starter, engage the clutch and get across the country under one-horsepower.—Minneapolis Journal.

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast fast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening, and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.
